Our Resources

Scrolling slider of images of co-creators, their names & professions

Developed for use by both primary, secondary schools and colleges, The World Reimagined teaching resources offer a creative and experiential journey of discovery for young people.

Free resources have been created by unique collaborations between well-known creatives and subject matter experts. Supported by teacher focus groups and mental health care professionals they will provide you with a variety of ways to inspire your classroom. Whether using 2-minute videos from well known experts to spark discussion, or creative new ideas for lesson plans, we have developed resources in a variety of formats to suit your needs. With cross-curricular links and clear learning journeys mapped out, these are easy for any teacher to use.

Our primary school resources focus on the theme, Mother Africa- a celebration of the cultural richness and diversity of Africa, including its maths, science, art and agriculture. Our secondary school and college resources address each of the nine themes of our Journey of Discovery- a journey across time from before the Transatlantic Slave Trade and ending with a look towards a more hopeful future.

We focus on how learning shapes the mindsets and attitudes of students - building their compassion, curiosity, courage, connection and critical thinking. Each school will be encouraged to explore multiple modules. The final module of each resource will bring together all your learning and inspire a creative output, from poetry, spoken word, prose or Globe creation.

Leadership in Teaching Series

Scrolling slider of images of Experts, their names & professions

Our 'Leadership in Teaching' series supports you not just in "how to deliver these resources", but more broadly in how to become racial justice leaders in your school community and beyond.

Join a series of experts tackling the specific dimensions of what it means to be a racial justice leader (Eg. "Holding difficult dialogue"; "Creating Safe Spaces"; "Power & Privilege"). Each expert presents 3-4 key ideas about ways you could/should think about the world. Each idea comes with a worksheet that gives you a reflective practice that you can do alone or together to think about how they might apply those ideas to your work in different ways.
